

WORKING OUR GROWTH STRUCTURE

1. Be very concerned about leading others (especially teens) to Christ every week. We must set the pace, personally.
 2. Be very concerned with bringing teens down the aisle, personally, for baptism. Set a goal, work your prospects, personally help bring them down the aisle.
 3. Be consumed with encouraging our teens to reach others, to work at bringing visitors, etc.
 4. Reward the teens who are faithfully endeavoring to reach others.
 5. Be faithful every week to visit your teens in their homes. Try to work some visits into your schedule even if you are unable to be at an organized visitation time. Try to take another teen with you.
 6. Every week write five personal notes of encouragement to teens who the Lord lays on your heart.
 7. Every week make at least ten (if not more) phone calls. They are best made on Friday or Saturday. Be personal, encourage them.
 8. In class, be friendly to newer and visiting teens. Introduce them to others.
 9. Encourage others to be friendly and reach out to visitors and new teens.
 10. Personally help in bringing new teens to activities. This helps get them tied in and make friends.
 11. Be personally interested in the teens. Take them to lunch, call them for no reason, etc.
